COLONIAL THEATRE.

The Stolen Engine, of Hazards of Helen Series, Railroad.

It is doubtful if any other film serial that the Colonial theatre has offered its patrons has ever caught on so quickly as the Hazards of Helen series by the Kalem company, featuring Helen Holmes, the daring young woman of the railroad fame. In this film she personally takes control of a mammoth engine and, pursued by a pair of escaping yegs who are on another locomotive, jumps aboard their engine when the two iron monsters are side by side on the double tracks and captures them both, taking them by surprise. This is an especially daring piece of work and the picture is therefore very thrilling. The Right Girl is a delightful Vitagraph comedy drama with Earl Williams and Anita Stewart, while the balance of the bill includes His Prior Claim, Biograph, Love's Savage Hate, and other fine films. Coming Friday is the exclusive special multiple reel feature entitled The Lure.

TO INVESTIGATE BUSINESS PLANS OF CORPORATIONS.

One of the First Duties of the Federal Trade Commission.

Washington, March 8.—When the federal trade commission organizes here next week more than seven hundred men will be at hand to help to a mass of first hand information about business plans of corporations which involve the question of unfair methods of competition. The information is now in the hands of the department of justice in the form of letters from corporations throughout the country. Such letters began to reach that department shortly after the trade commission act went into effect and have continued to come in steadily. The writers generally seek to obtain advice as to whether prospective business moves are within the law. In each case the answer is that the department cannot furnish the desired advice.

There is some question also whether the trade commission has authority to give such anticipatory advice, but the letters probably will be turned over to it by Attorney General Gregory.

None of the trade commission organizations of big business has been among the letter writers.

RECEIVERSHIP FOR THE TOMMY ATKINS ALLOTMENT

Creek Nation Contends There Never Was Any Such Person.

Muskogee, Okla., March 8.—A receivership for the Tommy Atkins allotment, said to be worth a million dollars, was appointed today by the federal court in this city. The government of the Creek nation contends that the allotment was made to a fictitious person and that it should be cancelled and the property revert to the Creek nation.

1,500 BRITISH VESSELS IN AUXILIARY FLEET.

For Use in Moving and Sustaining Armies in the Field.

Washington, March 8.—Some idea of the size of the auxiliary fleet Great Britain is using to move and sustain her armies in the field may be gained from a report on shipping conditions from American Consul Lathrop at Cardiff, Wales.

Fifteen hundred British vessels, he reports aggregating more than 5,000,000 tons have been taken over by the British admiralty on time charters, the government taking all responsibility and agreeing to return the vessels as received.

OBITUARY.

Judge W. H. Seaman. Chicago, March 8.—Judge W. H. Seaman of the United States circuit court of appeals for this district, died today in Coronado Beach, Calif., according to a message received from his daughter, who accompanied him west some time ago. Judge Seaman had been a federal judge for many years. His home was in Washington.

COURT REMITS $500 FINE IMPOSED ON TANNENBAUM

Because Sum Would Have to Be Paid by Pennies of the Poor.

New York, March 8.—The $500 fine imposed on Frank Tannenbaum in addition to a year's imprisonment for leading 191 unemployed men into St. Alphonse's church last year was remitted today by the court of general sessions. Tannenbaum's prison sentence expires tomorrow.

Judge Wadhams, in remitting the fine, called attention to the fact that money to pay the penalty had been collected from sympathizers among the poor in sums ranging from five cents up.

"I do not think," he said, "that the ends of justice now require that the pennies of the poor should be accepted to pay the fine."

Adding in his opinion the imposition of a fine rarely, if ever was conducive to the end of protecting society from the commission of a crime, he said: "The rich pay and can afford to do so and the poor, who cannot pay, suffer, not for the offense, but for their poverty."

Judge Wadhams also laid stress on Tannenbaum's profession that his motive had been a good one—namely, to call the attention of the public to a condition of unemployment.

TRADE WITH PHILIPPINES IS VIRTUALLY PARALYZED.

Lack of Ships to Handle Commerce Since War Began.

Washington, March 8.—Trade between United States and the Philippine Islands has been virtually paralyzed and business conditions in the islands are depressed by lack of ships to handle the commerce since the European war began. This situation was revealed today in a letter from Secretary of Commerce Redfield W. Proctor to the Philippine commission.

After reciting the conditions as described by the governor-general, the letter says: "So long as there is no law giving us power over any shipping, the government is powerless in the matter. Private and corporate interests are in control of the situation and we can do nothing."

Reports of congested conditions in the islands said freight rates had doubled in the past ten days and that ships could not be obtained to move the products awaiting shipment at Manila. Prices were reported to be falling on account of short tonnage and increased rates.

PROLONGED LIFE BY ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION

Man Kept Alive Seven Weeks by Efforts of Friends and Relatives.

Washburn, Wis., March 8.—Lafayette Reuter, 23 years old, whose every breath was taken by artificial respiration, has been kept alive by means of artificial respiration, died today.

This was one of the most peculiar cases that came to the attention of physicians in this vicinity. Last fall Mr. Reuter was stricken with nerve paralysis which affected the muscles of his arms and legs, and later the muscles of the pulmonary region.

Relatives and friends were forced to pump the chest with their hands. During the entire illness the victim remained conscious and gave instructions as how best to pump his chest.

POETRY

WHAT AN ARTIST SAID.

I saw her when Rose in the east, And it was dawn; When, motif seeking, I had passed Beyond the town. By park and lawn.

She stood beside A path that led Rose bordered To an ivied door: She stood beside A garden urn And leaned its lovely Flowers o'er.

Was she ideal Or was she real? It does not matter: She was fair!

I could believe That she was formed Out of the dawn, The light and air.

To grace for me The garden urn She looked so lovely Leaning o'er:— Ralph Waldo, in the Boston Transcript.

THE JOY OF COMING HOME.

There's joy in sailing outward, Though we sail on the pier, With faces gripped and wistful, Our very dearest dear. Though there's a roll between us For perhaps a whole round year.

There's joy in climbing mountains, In fording rushing brooks, In peering into places, In meeting stranger people With unfamiliar looks.

But the joy of joys is ours, Untroubled by a pain, When we take the home-bound steamer And catch the home-bound train. There's nothing half so pleasant As coming home again.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

"It's the things we haven't got that make us unhappy," remarked the parlor philosopher.

"How about the toothache?" suggested the mere man.—Judge.

Baker—Is Manning a successful parent?

"Barker—Indeed, yes! Able to support his family in the style to which their friends are accustomed.—Life.

"Wonder why there are so many bald-headed men and so few women who are bald?"

"Just because baldness is unbecoming; that's why."—Browning's Magazine.

"Church—I see Professor Soddy of England says it is soon to be possible to turn lead into gold."

Gotham—In that case little Belgium ought some day to be a gold mine.—Yonkers Statesman.

"Pa, a man's wife is his better half, isn't she?"

"We are told so, my son."

"Then, if a man marries twice, there isn't anything left of him, is there?"—Philadelphia Record.

"What's the matter with that rummy out there? Does he want to fight?"
